When Your Love Becomes a Legacy

The World Vision Society

"But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moth and rust do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."
— Matthew 6:20-21 (NIV)

what will your legacy be?

"God is using us to carry out His plan
to help others."

Because we've always shared during our lifetime, we wanted to do the same in our will.

We just want to leave that at the end of our lives, we need our estate to do good for those in need. It brings us joy to contribute to an organization that's so faithful in doing the work they do.

Our names are Carol and Craig Powell.
And we're putting God first in our estate.

World Vision testimonial 2019

"We want to leave a legacy of giving."

We'd like to leave that after we're gone, we can still contribute to World Vision's mission. You feel a sense of satisfaction knowing that the people you're helping now will continue to be helped.

Most of all, we want to be an example to our grandchildren,
so they will experience the joy of giving, too.

Our names are Linda and Bruce McLean.
And we're sharing a legacy of generosity.

World Vision testimonial 2019

"There is no better way to leave others."

I want to leave a legacy — a message to the world that God is love.
There's only World Vision, so that's why I'm leaving my money to — and to leave a message that God is love.

So, to be able to help others, we chose to be a blessing to others. World Vision is helping me to do that. I hope.

My name is Christine Brown.
And I'm leaving my money to World Vision.

But the wisdom that comes from heaven is first of all pure;
then peace-loving, considerate, submissive, full of mercy and good fruit, impartial and sincere.
